An exhibition of artworks by students of NUS High School of Math & Science

4th to 17th JUN 2007 Jurong Regional Library Level 2

In this public art display by NUS High School students, students experiment, explore & create art works without seeking a predetermined end. Such spontaneity allows the work to take many forms akin to the thinking & learning in a kid's play. Spontaneous & joyful, subversive or amusing, the works on display make statements about the nature of identity & creative expressions.
